

A GUIDE TO OUR FAVORITE SOURCES FOR FOOD PHOTOGRAPHY PROPS

(DISHWARE, BAKEWARE, SERVEWARE & MORE)

- Thrift stores, antique stores, garage sales and flea markets — these are fantastic places to find all sorts of props, though it is hard to predict what you will find.

MAJOR RETAILERS (IN THE US)

- Target — great for all sorts of props. Very affordable. Especially look at the Hearth and Hand line.
- West Elm — a great resource for dessert and salad plates. Relatively pricy but look for sales.
- Crate and Barrel — A great resource for plates, platters. Relatively pricy but look for sales.
- CB2 — slightly more modern and (sometimes) more affordable than C&B.

- Pottery Barn — Good for classic, Americana, country-style dishware.
- Sur La Table — Good for classic, high end dishware and linens.
- Williams Sonoma — Classic, high end, Americana.
- Anthropologie — beautiful dishware and linens, but quite expensive.
- Home Goods / TJ Maxx / Marshalls – Often have fantastic deals on dishware, cookware and linens.
- Etsy — Takes some poking around but you can find great handmade ceramics, linens, etc.
- World Market — Fantastic deals on plates, glassware, linens.
- Amazon — Ugh. But also yeah, you can find everything.

BOUTIQUE RETAILERS (CURATED, SPECIAL PIECES. OFTEN PRICEY)

- Food52 — Beautiful linens and cookware. Expensive.
- Magnolia — Limited selection, but beautiful.
- Dansk — Classic Danish design (also look for vintage pieces).
- Little King — A local (to us) store, with a fun online shop.
- Fodory — Beautifully curated, super cool stuff.
- Magic Linen — Guess what they sell.

ARTISANS AND MAKERS (HANDMADE PIECES, MORE EXPENSIVE, BUT WORTH IT)

- East Fork Pottery — Gorgeous plates, bowls, mugs, etc. Beautiful colors.
- Farmhouse Pottery — Especially their pantry bowls and pitchers.
- Facture Goods — Beautiful handmade metal and ceramic spoons and bowls.
- Jono Pandolfi — A favorite of high-end restaurants. Used in “The Bear”.
- Woodville Ceramics — Located in Kazakhstan so shipping is expensive.
- Henry Street Studio — Only sell a couple of times a year, but so gorgeous.
- Connor McGinn Studios — Beautiful colors.

CHECK OUT OUR OTHER GUIDES

Guide to essential props for food photography \(glassware & barware\)

10 essential food photography props \(you probably already have\)

Guide to our food photography gear

