

A GUIDE TO OUR FAVORITE SOURCES FOR FOOD PHOTOGRAPHY PROPS (DRINKWARE, GLASSWARE)

- Thrift stores, antique stores, garage sales and flea markets -- these are fantastic places to find all sorts of glassware. Look for single glasses (or sets of 2), vintage bottles etc.

MAJOR RETAILERS (IN THE US)

- Target — great for basics (water glasses, basic cocktail, mugs)
- West Elm – cocktail glasses and barware. Relatively pricy but look for sales.
- Crate and Barrel — cocktail glasses and barware. Relatively pricy but look for sales.
- CB2 — slightly more modern and (sometimes) more affordable than C&B.

- Pottery Barn — Good for classic, Americana, country-style glassware.
- Sur La Table — Good for classics, like Picardie Tumblers.
- Williams Sonoma — Classic, high end, Americana.
- Anthropologie — hit or miss for glassware, and quite expensive.
- Home Goods / TJ Maxx / Marshalls — Often have fantastic deals on glassware, modern jars.
- Etsy — vintage glassware, bottles, jars. Usually more expensive than thrift stores.
- Ebay — vintage glassware, bottles, jars. Prices can vary widely.
- World Market — Fantastic glassware, bottles.
- Amazon — Ugh. But also yeah, you can find everything.

BOUTIQUE RETAILERS (CURATED, SPECIAL PIECES. OFTEN PRICEY)

- Food52 — Beautiful glassware, barware. Expensive.
- Magnolia — Homey, rustic glassware and barware.
- Little King — A local (to us) store, with a fun online shop.
- Weck Jars — Our favorite modern jar.
- Malfatti Glass — One of our local glassmakers, creates beautiful off-kilter pieces.

BARWARE ARTISANS (WHERE THE PROFESSIONALS SHOP)

- Bull In China — Cocktail glasses and bar tools.
- Amehla — Handmade glassware.
- Viski — Glassware and accessories.
- Urban Bar — Premium barware and glassware.
